April 2013

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

When King James VI of Scotland succeeded Elizabeth I, the last Tudor monarch, in 1603, one of the better things he accomplished was a translation of the Bible from the Greek, Hebrew, and Latin translations they had at that time. It is a beautifully written translation, and when I was growing up in western Pennsylvania, it was the text for my Bible memorization. Because King James paid for the work, the translation was titled after him. Most scholars believe that this was his chief aim, since he was a rather scandalous individual, having had many affairs during his reign while fathering six children with his queen, Anne of Denmark. Nevertheless, he did place a very readable translation into the hands of the people. The oldest manuscript in the original language available to the translators when the endeavor began (1607) was an eighth century document, and when this document varied with Saint Jerome's Latin translation, the latter was referred to.

Archeology since 1607 has revealed a host of older manuscripts than those available to the translators of the King James Version (KJV). By the time the Revised Standard Version (RSV) was translated in the 1950s, many manuscripts from the second and third centuries were used, along with a multitude from the later centuries. So, while the KJV is an older translation, the older texts used to obtain that translation are in the RSV. That is important because, obviously, the older texts are closer to the source and less likely to have scribal errors. The RSV is a better translation than the KJV.

The Didache (Greek meaning teachings) is, with little doubt, the earliest writing in Christendom and is considered the oldest example of the genre of Church Orders. It instructs that the Eucharist be celebrated every Sunday. Since the Didache was written around the year 50, it predates the Gospels and most of Paul's writings. It seems very clear that the earliest church that still had many of the apostles alive in its midst understood the importance of weekly celebration. That earliest form of the worshiping community practiced a communal life in which all goods were held in common, a meal was prepared every day, and the Eucharist (Thanksgiving) was celebrated every Lord's Day. We are doing just that. Paul writes to the church at Corinth, "For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes." And, indeed, we do.

Peace in Christ,
Pastor Kingsley

APRIL MOVES US FORWARD INTO SPRING

We have made our Lenten journey, lived with our Lord through Holy Week, and celebrated the Resurrection on Easter Sunday. He is alive! We continue our journey with Jesus during the seven-Sunday season of Easter, which starts on Easter, March 31, and continues through Pentecost, May 19.

The world around us is awakening from winter slumber; we sense our inner being becoming more alive; we feel the longing to get outside and soak up the warmth. Yet we also pause weekly to recharge and reenergize as we come together to worship and fellowship with one another. I still hold to the dictum that our weekly coming together provides the stability, the structure, and the renewal that we need to face whatever may confront us in our daily lives. If we listen closely to the joys and concerns each week, we learn that, out of the clear blue sky, any number of things can happen to us when we least expect it. If we are vigilant in the practice of our faith, we can be better prepared for life's unexpected events.

On Sunday mornings, there is a well of strength to be gained by thoughtfully participating in our worship service together. We hear the terms "be fully present," "be mind-full," and "be open." It is easy to become distracted by looking around at others, by not really listening, by just mouthing the words to hymns, and by yawning and waiting for it all to be over. However, we can gain more if we center our awareness on each element of the service as it unfolds.

The service actually begins when you walk through the front door and are confronted with the baptismal font, which reminds you of your own baptism and being marked as "Christ's own forever." Next, there is the scripture of preparation found at the top of each service bulletin; the scripture establishes the tone of our service from the very beginning. I then read a centering prayer, quieting our hearts and calming our distractions as we meditatively prepare our hearts for worship during the organ prelude.

It takes effort on our part to concentrate, to really listen, to focus on what we are hearing and singing. It is so easy for the words of familiar hymns to glide off our tongues. The famous Riverside Church organist, Virgil Fox, used to tell his organ students to read slowly through all verses of a hymn, contemplate what is being said, and only then go to the organ to practice using sounds that illustrate the tone or emotion of the hymn.

The "soul food" we so desperately need is right before us: prayer, readings from scripture, reminders of our fellow Christians in need of prayer and healing, hymns of faith, and words of wisdom from the sermon. Our services are deep wells from which we can drink, and we follow Jesus' command and take Communion for our hungry souls to nourish us spiritually for the week ahead.

As we allow the Holy Spirit to indwell us and open our hearts, we are promised in Galatians 5:22-23:

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, and temperance . . .

Director of Ministry of Music

PRAYER SHAWL MINISTRY

This past month, the shawls once again found their way to the shoulders of those in need of a hug.

Several shawls were given to our church members for their family members or friends who needed support. Many beautiful shawls have been made in the past four weeks, and they certainly didn't last long. (Some showed up at church on a Sunday, and by the time we were heading to coffee hour, they were already heading to another place to bring warmth and comfort to others.)

A red, white, and blue shawl was given to a friend in Warwick. Her husband was a lieutenant colonel in the Army and served for a long time. They were married sixty-six years, and he passed on recently. The shawl will serve as a reminder of how her husband loved his country and served it so gallantly. She was very honored to receive the gift, and I am sure she will think of the places they went to represent the United States in his Army career.

Carol Gabella wrote that her mom just loved the white, aqua, and peach shawl we sent to her when she had a fall recently. She also appreciated the prayer that came with the shawl and thought it was so special. We helped to brighten up her day.

Another shawl was sent to Minneapolis, Minnesota, at the request of another shawl ministry that was temporarily out of them. Marsha Kloster, the lady who requested the shawl, presented it to her friend, who is like a sister to her and who is undergoing a fourth surgery. She said the shawl was loved and that her friend appreciated the kindness of strangers. We are glad we could help and get the shawl sent out immediately.

Thanks again for the yarn that was brought to the church. As you can see, we go through it quite fast. Pocket shawls are also in the narthex for anyone who knows someone who might appreciate something to hold on to. It is a simple gift, but it lets a person know that he or she is not alone.

God bless each of you, and consider yourselves hugged,

Wendy Paffenroth
PSM Secretary

Presbyterian Women's Association (PW) News

The March meeting was held on Monday, March 4. Thirteen ladies and one guest attended.

We signed and sent cards to several of our church women who needed a boost. It seems that, each month, we are sending more and more of these cards. We know that they are appreciated, as we received several thank-you notes, which were read to the PW members.

We discussed the bake sale, which will be held on Friday, May 24. We will again be looking for donations of baked goods.

We also discussed the World Day of Prayer, which was held on March 1. This was a lovely event, and women from all the churches in Goshen attended. Every church had a reader, and there was lovely fellowship and a wonderful "meet & greet & eat" in Fellowship Hall after the service. Everyone who attended said the afternoon was wonderful as well as inspirational. We thank everyone who took part in any way.

We also talked about upcoming events in the church and possibly donating to a need financially.

We celebrated Betty Lobb's and Wendy Paffenroth's March birthdays with three beautiful cakes and drinks (coffee and apple juice). Everyone wants the recipes for those cakes, and we know they would be a hit at one of our bake sales.

Our next meeting is on the day after Easter (April 1). We will discuss more of the year's events. We hope you will take a break from the jelly beans and come out and meet with your sisters of the church.

ANNUAL SPRING RUMMAGE SALE
Friday and Saturday, May 24 and 25
(Mark your calendars now!)

The chairperson for the Rummage Sale is again Glynnis Jorgensen. Glynnis would be grateful to anyone who can help with this annual event, as many hands are needed to set up during the week of the sale and also to clean up on Saturday, May 25, in the afternoon.

Remember, items can be brought in from the evening of Monday, May 20 through Thursday, May 23. Please do not put anything on the stage before May 20. The stage is used every Sunday evening.

We need saleable items, no junk. Items brought in should be CLEAN, not broken. We cannot sell chipped glassware, toys with missing parts, books without covers, items with missing pieces, or items with frayed electrical cords. We also cannot sell used computers or exercise equipment.

The better the items look, the more money we can get for them, so run those excess dishes through a wash cycle before you donate them, and try to pack items that are similar in the same boxes. This makes it so much easier for those setting up. In the past, we noticed that the jewelry table does well, so clear out that costume jewelry from your jewelry boxes. New and usable items are always welcome as well. We accept toys with all the parts and furniture that is still in good condition.

Please offer a few hours of your time to this good fundraiser for your church. All church members should be able to donate an hour or two to help. Remember that All HELP is greatly appreciated, and you can bring a friend or coworker, too. Come out and share this fellowship with other church members.

Thank you again.

Dear Church Family,

Here is an update from the Fundraising Committee:

On March 3, we had a successful baked potato coffee hour. We sold about sixty-five baked potatoes (regular and sweet with all the toppings), and we made a profit of $267 to go toward the new furnace.

The St. Patrick's Parade was held on March 10. We sold hot dogs, hamburgers, corned beef sandwiches, French fries, and onion rings. We send a big "thank you" to Stewarts for donating 120 hot dogs, 120 hot dog buns, and 120 hamburger buns. ShopRite donated a $25 gift card, which was used for the rye bread. Liese and Adam Boese donated the ice, and Darlene Bartley donated the corned beef and condiments. Thanks to all who set up, cooked, cleaned up, and purchased food. After expenses, we realized a profit of $905, which will go toward the Nicaragua trip.

Coming up in April are two fun events:

The Murder on the Prairie is on Saturday, April 20. This event should be a lot of fun; we hope to see the Fellowship Hall full. For more information, please see the flyer in this Tower Tie.

A Tricky Tray will be held on Friday, April 26. The doors will open at 6:00 p.m., and the calling will be at 7:30 p.m. There will be food for sale. For more information, please see the flyer in this Tower Tie. We would greatly appreciate donations of themed baskets valued at $25 each or items for the door prizes. Please leave any donations in the office or give them to me on Sundays.

Please save the dates of May 3 through May 5 (Friday through Sunday) for the annual plant sale and a community yard sale. If you know anyone who needs a place to have a yard sale, space can be rented here on May 4 at the community yard sale.

Also, we are up to $3,400 in the roof fund. Great job, everyone, and thanks for your support!

Thank you,

Grover vonPentz, Fundraising Chair

Darlene Bartley, Fundraising Co-Chair

PLEASE PAY YOUR PER CAPITA ASSESSMENT FOR 2013

Every year, the Presbytery of the Hudson River charges every member church an assessment according to the current active membership. Our recorded active membership is currently 348 and our assessment per member (not per family) for 2013 is $30.00, which is a total of $10,440.00 to be taken from our operating budget. Please assist with this expense and write a check for your family assessment, if you haven't already done so, and either mail it to the church or place it in the Sunday offering plate. Thanks for doing your share.
