Husbands, love your wives as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her . . .
(Ephesians 5:25)

I like driving alone. I spend a great deal of time driving around, and I don't mind giving others a lift. But there is a part of just being with yourself in your car that I like.

When you're in the car alone, you can choose the music; you can crank that music as loud as you want to or you can think through the day in silence; you can pull through the nearest Starbucks drive-thru without offering an explanation. Driving solo means no one else to deal with; and, sometimes this feels very good.

But to make this a way of life is an affront to what God intended for us. A chronic indulgence of self is what Jesus called "hardness of heart," and he named it as the main reason that God's plan for marriage is regarded by so many as an unattainable ideal.

Hard-heartedness can be mean and uncaring. But most often it's simply self-indulgent, leaving little room for the other, sometimes resenting the demands others place on the "self." A hard heart is the ever-present enemy of family life, and marriage in particular.

And here's where there is hope and good news for families, marriages, and relationships of all kinds. God delights in changing hard hearts.

What frustrates us is the reality that this work is God's and God's alone. You cannot change the heart of your spouse. You cannot do much to change your own heart. But God can. The union that "sticks" and triumphs over the calloused heart is a union that God makes. It is "what God has joined together" (Mark 10:9).

The irritations of family life are red flags that point not to the flaws of those around us, but to the hardness of our own hearts. The model for married life is sacrificial love (Ephesians 5:25). The cross shows us how to love our spouse – but that's not a kind of love that comes easily or naturally to us. We need help. That's one of the reasons why prayer belongs at the center of marriage. In marriage we're trying to do something that we're not capable of doing on our own.

A hard heart shows itself in hundreds of little ways. Before you go pointing out symptoms in your spouse, look for how this shows up in your own life. Pay attention today to your heart, and invite God to work in your heart as only God can.

Here is a good one with which to start:

Merciful God, my heart is deceptive, allowing me to feel right and entitled, causing me to chafe at the presence of others around me, even my own family. Forgive me and change my heart. As you work in my heart, work in my home. Teach me to love those closest to me, especially my spouse, as you have loved me in Jesus, in whose name I pray. Amen.

ADVENT – A SEASON OF PREPARATION

We are now well on our way in this Advent season looking forward to the coming of the Messiah to Earth as incarnated in Jesus the Christ. As we prepare our hearts inwardly, we also place symbols of preparation in the sanctuary as visual reminders of the season. Each Sunday we light a different candle on the Advent Wreath and sing our hymn of preparation for that Sunday. The sanctuary is swathed in greenery, the tree goes up, and our music helps us to focus on the first coming of Jesus. It is a beautiful time of year.

On Advent I, November 29, the choir sang Advent Celebration with the repeated refrain, “Jesus is coming, Jesus is coming, prepare the way!”

On Advent II, December 6, the choir is debuting a new Advent anthem, Blessed Is the Lord (Benedictus). It is a hauntingly beautiful piece presenting Advent themes with the recurring, “Benedictus, benedictus, welcome His Incarnate Word.” It is music that remains in your heart and continues to resonate.

On Advent III, December 13, the Chancel Choir will be singing A Christmas Carol Gallery, a sumptuous musical tapestry of four beloved carols in choral setting: “The Snow Lay on the Ground,” “See Amid the Winter’s Snow,” “The Birthday of a King,” and ending with “O Holy Night.” It will be a beautiful transition from Advent into the Christmas season.

Advent IV, December 20, gives us the opportunity to hear from our young disciples as they present their perspective on the Christmas story as expressed this year in a beloved cartoon character full of wisdom, A Charlie Brown Christmas! It promises to be a fun time with themes to benefit us all at this time of year.

On Christmas Eve, December 24, we are presenting our annual Candlelight Service of Lessons and Carols. The luminaries will be lit lining the path and leading worshippers to the church doors; it is always a magical sight. And our singing “Silent Night” at the end of the service with all the candles lit and held aloft is always a very moving and emotional experience.

During this Advent season, let us come and prepare our hearts with prayer and longing for the coming of the Messiah. In the midst of the holiday preparations, may we each take time to be quiet and reflect on the true nature of what is taking place -- we are preparing for the birth of a child. It is a season of hope, joy, peace and love. Let us feel those themes in our hearts as each week passes leading up to Christmas Eve’s celebration of the birth of Jesus, our Savior.

PRAYER SHAWL MINISTRY NEWS

Barbara Hankins outdid herself this month; she made sure that the Tucker and Reynolds family, daughters and wife, were all given shawls when the family suffered a loss. She also made sure that Josephine Bartley, a devoted member of the Shawl Ministry, received one as well with the loss of her wonderful sister. Thank you, Barbara for filling the need so quickly.

Maureen and Bob Johnson wanted the ministry to know that they were grateful for the gift as Bob works hard to get his health restored. From personal experience, the hug is a great gift when you find yourself in this situation. Thinking and praying for the Johnsons, that 2016 find you in much better health.

Orra's daughter, Sandra Wood, passed on another shawl to a friend in Connecticut who is going through a tough medical time. The following was received: "To the Prayer Shawl Ministry - Thank you so much for the beautiful purple prayer shawl. It will certainly be treasured and well used during my cancer treatment. Thank you again, Wendy Ward, Seymour, Connecticut. We hope Wendy, too, gets her health restored.

Felicia Van Doran sent me an email that she got a shawl from the church for a friend and was so pleased to be able to help someone as well. That is the reason we keep some at the church, for those who feel the need to hug someone who needs some cheering.

(A reminder to all those who crochet -- there are skeins of yarn for the taking for your projects in the Narthex and in the shawl room.)

A Blessed Christmas to all!

Wendy Paffenroth – Shawl Secretary

From the Christian Ed. Committee...

This year we will have 50 tags on the Giving Tree in the Narthex. Please consider taking one or two with you when you Christmas shop.

The child's name, age and sometimes sizes will be listed on the tags and, as always, what they would like for Christmas.

It feels really good to do this for someone else, and as you shop think of what their reaction will be on Christmas morning when they open their gift.

You might also toss in socks, a Uno game, a pair of mittens or a puzzle. Even pens or washable markers are good for homework and school projects. Ladies of our church also knit hats all year for these kids.

The Christmas Pageant will be December 20 this year. Please come and cheer on our participants. It'll be great! We will be putting up posters about our Sunday School Christmas project; watch for them!

Have a lovely, spiritual Christmas and let's look forward to a better New Year.

Sincerely,
BA Long

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The November meeting started on a somber note as we remembered our friend, Myrna Tucker. Myrna always contributed something important to our monthly meetings, and we half expected the door to open and for her to come through. We are so glad that so many of us were in attendance at the Honoree Luncheon where she was one of our great ladies celebrated, only a month before. We will not mourn her, but we will celebrate her wonderful life and we will try to live by the example she showed us. In honor of Myrna we offer this:

MY HEART

My heart feels empty now that you are gone,
My heart is full with the good times we had.

My heart is empty thinking of the things we should have done,
My heart is full recalling the special moments we shared.

My heart is empty wishing there had been more,
My heart is overflowing with the hours we spent with each other.

My heart is empty because our time felt short,
My heart is full because we had more time than many.

My heart is empty for wanting more,
My heart is full with thoughts of you.

My heart is empty because I can't turn back the clock,
My heart is full thinking of all you gave me.

My heart is empty because I am selfish and miss you now,
My heart will always remain full because you are always in it.

Each time I see something wonderful in God's world I will—

Remember how blessed I was that He put us together.

Our hearts were meant to be joined in love.
Thank you God for letting our paths mingle for a while.

AMEN

Thank you to all the ladies who helped on the few funerals receptions that were held in the past month. You are a blessing.

We discussed the Holiday Fair and decided to hand out the “free” plates again this year. Sharlene Bischof showed us her finished afghan for which we will sell raffle tickets the same day with the money going to the restoration of the Tiffany Windows. There was also a discussion on the Christmas gifts going out.

Thank you also in advance to all who made soup and chili or baked for the Holiday Fair.

Our next meeting is December 6 at 7 p.m. (or as soon as many arrive) in the parlor. Please come and help us decide about the holiday gift bags for those members of the church who cannot come to services with us. Your help is needed and welcomed.

Newsletter Secretary,

Dear Pastor Kingsley and Congregation:

Back in the beginning of the year, David was lying outside the MRI Suite at Columbia/Presbyterian in NYC to confirm that he had pancreatic cancer. While lying in that waiting area, a lady came over to talk to him, whose daughter was the test before his. She told Dave that when he got back to his room to read Isaiah 41:10 and he would be ok. We don't know the name of this “angel,” but she helped us at the start at this year's tough journey and then you, my friends, picked up where she left off.

Eleven months later, after numerous trips to the hospital, many chemo treatments, a 7 hour serious surgery, and side effects from the drugs (the list is endless), WE ARE “CANCER-FREE!” Through all of it, we tried to keep life as normal as possible. We write this in appreciation to all of you who prayed for and with us, held our hands, gave us a hug, sent a card, shared your cares and concerns, and uplifted us on some pretty dark days. We are here, stronger than ever we hope, because of your help.

Seventeen days after the surgery, we did get wonderful news that our daughter and son-in-law gave us a grandson. On March 27, David James Whitson was born in Tennessee, a miracle child as our daughter is also a cancer survivor. The smiles on this little guy's face have been a blessing to us as well. He sure knows how to brighten grandpa's days.

While the process of healing continues, (lots of scans, etc. in our future), we thank you for walking with us. Your kindness was and is sincerely appreciated and you are each a blessing from God in our lives.

May your holidays be filled with joy and hope for a wonderful and healthy 2016!

With hugs,
David and Wendy Paffenroth

STEWARDSHIP

---

Dear Fellow Stewards,

For this month's Tower Tie, the emphasis I would like to take in this stewardship year is the long-term financial outlook for the First Presbyterian Church in Goshen. We are all aware of the day-to-day and month-to-month needs of our church. I know that you will prayerfully contemplate your commitment. This is a follow-up in the fall campaign for the 2016 commitment year. Commitment cards were sent out in October 2015 and I hope you will return them in as timely a fashion as you all did last year. Your church needs your continued commitment.

However, the numbers so far this year (2015) are starting out on a discouraging note. We are falling short in the categories of the numbers of financial returns and the proportion of those returns.

As an engineer who cuts all of the meat on my plate before starting to eat, I would like to slice a few numbers for you as follows:

Church member families (total)*	178
Church member families who pledged offerings in 2014 for 2015	69
Pledge returns from church member families by November 15, 2015	46

*Total member families include 3 or 4 where the only member is a younger person.

Please take that extra moment to consider what the church means to you and return your 2016 financial pledge cards by November 30, 2015.

Yours in Christ (Physical) Stewardship

William E. Eustance, Chair

This month we will share a Christmas cake recipe. It is a great morning cake while you sit around counting your blessings on Christmas morning, and maybe opening a few gifts as well.

Christmas Morning Almond Cake

1 white or yellow box of cake mix
3 large eggs
1 can almond filling - 12.5 oz. (Solo brand)
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of sour cream
Ginger ale - part of 1 can of soda (8-10 oz.)
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. almond extract
Confectionary sugar or vanilla icing - optional
Ground almonds for the top - optional

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees.

Grease and flour a 10" tube pan or a Bundt pan.

In a bowl place 3 large eggs, sour cream &  $\frac{1}{2}$  can of soda. Beat until smooth. Add the almond filling and the extracts then beat just until mixed in.

Add one box of cake mix. While mixing, start adding soda until you get a nice batter (you may not need it all).

Bake for approximately 40 minutes until the top springs back when touched and is golden brown.

Remove from oven and cool one hour. Flip onto a pretty dish and let rest until cooled completely. Then glaze with almond glaze.

Almond Glaze

1 cup confectioner's sugar

2 tsp. milk

A drop of almond extract

Sprinkle ground almonds on top or just microwave some white frosting until pourable and put over the top of the cake. Let dry.

Decorate with maraschino cherries for a festive effect.

Also a great cake to take to someone's house you are visiting or a gift for the neighbors.

Have a wonderful and Blessed Holiday Season and a Happy Healthy New Year!

LAST CHANCE TO PAY YOUR PER CAPITA ASSESSMENT FOR 2015

Every year, the Presbytery of the Hudson River charges every member church an assessment according to the current active membership. Our recorded active membership is currently 345 and our assessment per member (not per family) for 2015 is $31.00, which is a total of $10,695.00 to be taken from our operating budget. As of August 31, 2015 $6,757.00 has been paid. Please assist with this expense and write a check for your family assessment, if you haven't already done so, and either mail it to the church or place it in the Sunday offering plate. Thanks for doing your share.

Christmas Thoughts author: anonymous

It's sharing of your gifts, not the purchasing gifts.
It's not wrapping presents, it's being present,
And wrapping your arm around ones you love.
It's not getting Christmas cards out on time,
It's sending any card, anytime, at the right time.
It's not having the biggest and best Christmas light display,
It's the display of Christ's light that comes from your heart.
It's not Santa down the chimney, it's Jesus coming down from heaven and giving us the gift of eternal life."

May you have a Blessed Christmas - The Board of Deacons
